“Papooses Take Breather, Await Game With Kittens” by Ernie Witucki: The Papooses football team takes a hard loss against the Utah State Ramblers. A series of unfortunate events and fumbles and interceptions, stopped the Papooses from scoring and led to their defeat of 8-0. The Papooses have a bye week to prepare for the highly anticipated game against the BYU Kittens who will be “psychologically prepared” for the game especially since the Papooses have already beat them this season according to Summerhayes.

“Utah State Leads Nation Defensively”: The Utah State Aggies are at the top of their game defensively and their statistics show that. They’ve only allowed their opposing teams a total of 41.3 rushing yards total all season. BYU’s Bill Wright, Utah’s Joe Borich, and Iowa State’s Dave Hoppmann are also performing well and leading the nation in rushing yards, passes received and punting distance.

“Two Games Set in Skyline Over Weekend”: Wyoming’s football team, led by quarterback Chuck Lamson are heading to New Mexico in hopes of maintaining their spot on the top twenty list. BYU is experiencing some setbacks as they have three major players injured for their game against Colorado State at home. Utah State is headed to Western Michigan University and hoping to end their shutout streak that they’ve had for their past three games.

“Coed ‘Vampires’ To Stage Bloodletting On U Campus”: The Fall quarter blood drive, sponsored by the ROTC with , will be held on Tuesday where all students, faculty members and employees of the University of Utah are encouraged to participate. Cochairmen Deanne Simmons and Sally Anderson want to remind students their participation can help many people around the country and in the Armed Services and the importance of having a solid amount of blood on reserve because there are threats of nuclear war. There will be trophies awarded to the largest participating group out of fraternities, service and religious, residence halls and military organizations. The goal is to donate more than last year which they collected 418 pints. They also offer incentive by pointing out that students who participate in the blood drive can get blood from the American Red Cross bank for free if there’s an emergency.

“U.S. Issues Warning to Soviet Union” by Associated Press: Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara claims the U.S. has the forces necessary to fight to defend our rights and responsibilities if necessary and that America plans to fight for our rights if and when the time comes. The U.S. is “broadening the range of weapons at our disposal in a contest initiated at a low level of violence.” McNamara made these claims at a dinner at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel.

“Redskins Defeat Favored Buffs 21-12” by Joe Ribotto: The Utes worked hard on Saturday and pulled out a win against the Boulder, Colorado Buffs. The win will go down in history as the biggest win in coach Nagel’s four years and it ended up bumping the Buffs from the rankings. Before the game, the Buffs were favored to win by 14 points. The ideal weather for football brought out over 25,000 Buffs fans. The Utes lead 14-6 at the end of the 1st half but they weren’t too confident as Colorado had recently scored 3 touchdowns in 11 minutes against Kansas. By the start of the 4th quarter, the Utes were anxious and drew unnecessary penalties and the Buffs converted them into a touchdown. The Buffs scored yet again but ended up walking off the field with a loss.

“Whirlpool of Confusion...”: Though ASUU has completed over half of a term, there are few results. ASUU Vice-President Ralph Thomson claimed in September that there will be a group of students to “investigate the problem of discrimination against foreign students and minority group Americans.” The Student body at other universities are taking action and we need to as well in areas such as approved University housing, barber shops and salons, restaurants and other areas/businesses students frequently visit. ASUU President Steve Brockbank acknowledges that they should have had all of these programs set in place by the start of the fall semester but that it won’t be ready until winter quarter. They are working to gain student support.

“The Round Table” by Chuck Akerlow: Chuck Akerlow claims that he and other students are very frustrated with the lack of achievements made by President Oplin and other members of the Student Government. Akerlow claims that much was promised with no delivery and projects getting done before the term is over doesn’t look promising. He claims that the students have apathy about many things because the lack of accomplishments made by the elected Student Government.

“To Each His Own...”: In a letter to the editor, students question why the student tickets they get by paying fees can’t be extended to others when they’re unavailable to attend. The University claims that it’s anticipated that not all students will be able to attend every game and that’s why they pay a smaller fee than the full price of a ticket to every game. Students feel that this could be incentive when the new fieldhouse is built.

“U ‘Well --- Fixed’ With Grants”: Utah administration claimed that the University of Utah is “well-fixed” with federal monies and grants. This followed John A. Perkins the president of the University of Delaware speaking about universities being “shortchanged” for tax dollars. There are four sources that colleges can get grant money from and it's estimated that grants will make up about 15-20 percent of University income.

“Noted Stars to Appear in University Production”: The Captains and the Kings will be produced with five different Hollywood, Broadway and University stars. Dana Andrews, Charlie Ruggles, Peter Graves, Conrad Nagel and Lee Grant will be performing November 20, 21, 22 at 8:30 and there will be a matinee on Wednesday at 2:30. Tickets are $4 for evening performances and $3 for matinee showings, there won't be a student discount.

“U Blood Drive Ends with Count in Red”: The Blood Drive has ended and the Utes barely missed their goal of 500 pints ending with 474 pints. Carolyn Wheeler, chief nurse feels that the University did meet its quota because so many people will benefit from the blood collected. Although we didn't get over 500 pints, many people had to be turned away at the end of the drive because there were still so many people who wanted to donate. Trophies will be awarded soon.

“NSA Features ‘Spotlight’ In Newsletter”: The University of Utah Union’s Spotlight program is being featured this month by the National Student Association. The goal of the spotlight is to acknowledge universities for their innovative work and can bring pride to that school. Along with the University of Utah, Brazil is getting a spotlight as well.

“Cork Room Nears Completion?” by Lois Ford: The Cork Room is a new comfortable, modern lounge room for students. As soon as it is finished, it will be a great place for students and their friends to handout and relax. Though the past 2 senior classes have donated a lot of money towards it, 6 to 8 thousand dollars are needed to finish it. When it’s finished, it will free up room in the cafeteria and huddle claims Gwen Anderson. Ernie Ford claims, “It would be a great service to the University if this year’s Senior Class could see its way clear to giving money for the completion of the Cork room this year.”

“Pres. Kennedy Led U.S. Mourning for Mr. Sam” by Associated Press: People from all over the world were in Bonham Texas today to hear the Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn. Sam passed away early Thursday morning so President Kennedy led the nation in remembering Mr. Rayburn claiming that the U.S. lost a devoted citizen.

“Civil Rights Receive Exec Attention”: The Executive Council meeting revolved around the Civil Liberties project led by Ralph Thomson. Members have been carefully screened and their duties range. If a decision is to be made based on someone’s race, the commission will try to dissuade the merchant. Other volunteers are Steve Brockbank and Bonnie Anderson.

“The Magic Touch”: Dean of Women, Dr. Virginia Frobes speaks about the magic touch for Women’s Week. She is very passionate about two things; her femininity and her intellectual abilities. Dr. Frobes claims that women are both appreciated and resented for their intelligence as the number of working women grow and as it becomes more normal for women to attend college. She hopes that one day, women can be looked at as a person in her own right.

“Symphony Review” by George Butsikares: An Outdoor Overture by the Utah Symphony opened Wednesday. The Symphony has worked hard and has portrayed the story beautifully.

Both the Orchestra and Conductor had amazing timing. Modern touches were mixed in and it made the program very enjoyable.

“Hitchhiking Through Europe”: Ralph P. Vanderheide traveled through the Southern Part of Spain. He learned a lot about the Spanish culture like the lack of transportation and the need for new roads. He met many amazing people like Ursy, a Swiss girl who loved to sing and yodel. They stopped at many different villages and got to experience many different things like the Mediterranean Sea and interacting with Monkeys.

“Women of Significance”: May women deserve to be honored during Women’s Week for their accomplishments, dedication, knowledge and pursuit of intellectual interests. Dean Frobes claims that it is disappointing that so many scholarships are based on GPA rather than other accomplishments that some don’t necessarily consider “scholarly.” All University students can share different characteristics and encourages all to enjoy the creative works of our civilization.
