

Finding Aid for the Daily Utah Chronicle; prepared by Scott Stephens

Issue Date: February 19, 1962

Volume: 73

Number: 87

Page: 1

Articles:

“Understand the World, Dr. Heaton Urges in Lecture”:

Dr. Herbert Heaton issued a plea at the annual Phi Alpha Theta lecture on a Friday night. The meaning behind the plea was that the United States was being drug into a concept of leadership adapted by the world in which our nation is lead to understand ideas such as allies, neutrals, and uncommitted people. The meaning behind this is to assume that the United States should only have dealings, or as Heaton is quoted, “remote political connection with their mother country” which would be Great Britain. Also, Heaton showed that as much as a nation grows over the course of time, it should also recognize the need to look after itself and its interests.

“Reynolds Talk Features Dean”:

Dr. Sydney Angleman, Dean of the College of Letters and Science and director of General Education was the speaker featured in the annual Reynolds lecture, given in Kingsbury Hall. The Reynolds lecture is named after the first director of the Extension Division Fredrick J. Reynolds and was established in his honor. Listed later in the article is a brief summary of Angleman and her path through her studies, as well as more information of her activity in programs throughout the community and the University.

“MacNamara Sees Barriers to Rehabilitation,” by Bob Finney:

The Dean of the New York Institute of Criminology, Donal E.J. MacNamara, believed that there is a lack of psychological help due to the stigma given off by the public about criminals, and that this was preventing successful rehabilitation plans for them. MacNamara said that many released criminals were finding their way back to prison, and a large part of the reason why is that prisons lacked psychiatrists, psychologists, and social workers needed to offer sufficient rehabilitation to the inmates. Also part of the stigma against the criminals is that once they were out of prison, all they wanted to do was return.

“Mass Meetings”

“Let Penalties Fit Person Authority Says,” by James Cook

Donal E. J. MacNamara, dean of the New York Institute of Criminology, stated that crimes will not decrease with increased and stricter verdicts, but rather with proper rehabilitation. He later added that if the criminal was viewed as an individual instead of a statistic, that more progress could be made in the fight against increased crime rates. The article continues on to offer advice as to simple steps that individuals can take to avoid crime in their communities. MacNamara also adds that these simple steps will probably not be followed due to the fact that people are, “too damn careless to do them.” Statistics about the crime rate in Utah compared to the national average are added and interesting to review.

“Astronomer to Discuss Galaxies ‘n their Influence”

Noted astronomer and lecturer, Dr. Harlow Shapley, discussed “Galaxies and What They Do to Us” in Kingsbury Hall. Shapley was acclaimed for his major discoveries and contributions in the field of astronomy. Later in the article, Shapley’s work and positions are listed out in detail as to why he was chosen and acclaimed in the way that he was. Shapley was a recipient of honorary degrees from an impressive 15 universities and was an honorary foreign member of national academies of ten different countries.

“Snow Carnival Ends with Trophy Awards”

“Local News”

List of Advertisements:

None

List of Cartoons and Art:

None

Issue Date: February 19, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 87

Page: 2

“Grass Roots”

This article consists of information on how every voting district in Utah will hold mass meetings. The meetings are being referred to as “Grass Roots” due to the fact that the meetings are bringing it back to a time in which meetings like this were common and the way that America conducted its governing business. Later in the article, the actions taken in these meetings was discussed as well as where to find the particular meeting place that pertained to the individual voter. The article itself is targeted more towards University students, trying to show them the importance of getting out and gathering information and letting their voices be heard.

“Letter to the Editor,” by Richard Bishop

This letter to the editor was based on filling in multiple points missed in a “Miss Hale” and her article of late picturing Jesse Garcia as a misunderstood youth. The main point that he believes that Jesse Garcia is guilty beyond a shadow of a doubt, when the “Miss Hale” believes that there was prejudice amongst the jury. He closes with a statement saying that when a murder is committed, the murderer, not society, deserves to be punished. He then went on to add that he pitied Garcia due to him being a misguided individual and how he could justify killing and stealing and other heinous crimes.

“The Round Table,” by Chuck Akerlow

This is an article written about the experience Akerlow had one evening when firetrucks raced past him on their way to find and put out a fire called in. Long story short, there was no fire and a whole situation ensued which lead the fire department to go to different developments, awaking the neighbors, and causing traffic jams, all just to go home without fighting a fire. Akerlow was proud of the effort and thoroughness of the department, but disappointed in his judgement of following the noise in chase of a great story and essentially wasting his time.

Classified Advertisement: Varied from things such as rooms to rent, apartments for rent, cars being sold, services requested, and job openings available.

Untitled: The Daily Utah Chronicle: Facts about when it is published and where to get a copy. This also gives the name of the business manager and the editor in chief.

“Park Office Issues Excusals”

“Young Talent Triumphs in “Salute to Youth” Concert

This article contains information about the Salute to Youth concert that was conducted, having it highlight the performance of Judy Wendell, an 18-year-old violinist. She gave a strong version of the Saint-Seans “Concerto No.3 in B Minor for Violin and Orchestra.” The article then continues to recognize strong performances from students such as David Brown, Myron Syphus, Paula Skolnick, and Elaine Lewis. The article is concluded by urging other students to come see a later performance in the Tabernacle.

“Missing Points,” Letter to the Editor

This letter to the editor is also written about the issue of Jesse Garcia and his murder trial case. This letter is also in favor of the strictest of punishments being laid down on murderers and believes that there are times in which society often times backs the guilty people and say that to kill them also is wrong and they can be taught different methodologies. The writer of this letter seems disgusted that citizens took the stance that since Garcia had such a hard upbringing, that he should be judged accordingly and that he probably did not know any better.

List of Advertisements:

None

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 19, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 87

Page: 3

“Prof’s Topic: How to Fight Reds”

Dr. J.D. Williams, associate professor of political science, discussed the wrong way to fight communism in Union building 304. The article also then discusses why Williams is relevant and all of his past achievements. Then the article switches to a different gear and brings up another discussion in the Union called, "Love vs. Sex," presented by Deseret News and Improvement Era columnist, Elaine Cannon. There then are a few advertisements after this, one for CCUN applications and then the second is for Fraternity Officers.

"Local News"

List of Advertisements:

The Reign of Chivalry

Utah Symphony

Superb Mexican and American Dishes

Showing at the Tower Theatres

Kings Row: A Woman's Most Important Accessory at the Prom

"University Honored with Middle East Collection," by Ray M. Bayles

This is an article describing how the University library was designated as one of the ten libraries in the United States to receive deposits of books and publications from Middle-Eastern countries. It was in the librarian's view, Dr. L.H. Kirkpatrick, that there was a weakness in the interests of holding these publications, and he feels that these Arab citizens are very important to not only the United States, but also the world. The rest of the article discusses the details of the books that will be kept, and how they will be categorized in the libraries holding them.

"Untitled," Calling U: Advertisements

Advertisements and meeting times for workshops and committees.

List of Comics:

None

Issue Date: February 19, 1962

Volume: 71

Number 87

Page: 4

"Utes Drub Denver, 109-70," by Joe Ribotto

This is a recap of a Utah basketball game, in which the Utes beat the University of Denver in the Einar Nelson Fieldhouse. There were mentions of Bill McGill was discussed for his intense scoring streak, with scoring 43 points. Ribotto then continues his recount of the game, discussing nuances that lead to the Utes victory. The article is finished by looking ahead to future games for the Utes, including a showdown with rival BYU.

List of Advertisements:

Dr. Edward Teller: Father of the Hydrogen Bomb

Prom Night February 23rd

Cal Tjader and His Quintet

Special Coupon Offer: Colonial Catering

The Limelitters at the Junior Prom

“NCAA Playoffs Nearer for Utaggies with CSU Win”

This is an article about the Utah State Aggies and their big jump towards playing in the NCAA playoffs. The article recapped their 77-70 win over the Colorado State Rams. The article then covered the standings, with Utah State only a game behind Utah. Mark Hansen and Phil Johnson were the leading scorers for Utah State, while Bill Green lead the way for Colorado State. The conclusion of the article is other smaller nuances of the game such as lead changes and what eventually gave Utah State the edge.

“Matmen Grab Western Title”

List of Comics:

None

Issue Date: February 20, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 88

Page: 1

“Symphony Sets Special Show”

This is an article declaring that the previous dress rehearsal was cancelled and rescheduled for a later date. The reason for the postponement is that the pianist Van Cliburn and Maestro Maurice Abravanel were away attending a funeral for their conductor Bruno Walter. The rest of the article describes the new time for the rehearsal, with more details about what they were performing. There is a photograph that goes with the article of Van Cliburn playing the piano.

“Man’s Fate in World Themes Reynold Talk”

This article explains how Dr. Sydney W. Angleman, associate dean of the College of Letters and Sciences, gave the Reynolds address. The Reynolds lecture is an annual address in honor of Fredrick William Reynolds, the first director of the University Extension Division. The talk will cover the necessity of a major change in man and his thinking if we are to be saved from totalitarianism or destruction. The rest of the article discusses Angleman and his accomplishments that have lead him to receiving the honor of giving the talk. There is a photograph of the speaker captioned, “Dr. Sydney W. Angleman: Reynolds lecturer.”

“Journalism Students Visit Paper for “College Day”

This article recaps how University journalism students traveled to the Salt Lake Tribune for a “college day.” There were a few students who were singled out and they were Ernie Ford, Barbra Carr, Bob Pexton, Robert Thurman, Charles Corry, and Charlotte Garff. They represented the University of Utah while also meeting with other students from Utah State University and Brigham Young University. The rest of the article covers the events that took place at the Tribune, as well as the sessions that were covered for the students.

“France Urges Nuclear Disarmament,” by the Associated Press

This article written by the Associated Press was an urge to the world nuclear powers from President Charles DeGaulle to destroy all their nuclear weapons and the methods in which they can be launched. DeGaulle continued by saying that France was ready to meet with the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union in a disarmament conference. The second part of the article contains information about how the Soviet Union told the United States and other Western allies that they had no right to control flights of Soviet aircraft in the Berlin corridors. The last part of the article is about Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, who was the sparkplug of the Women's Strike for Peace, suggested that Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy broadcast to Russian woman for an appeal for peace. She believed this would have been spread across the Soviet Union and given wide attention.

“Galaxy Size: Great, Shapley Says,” by Janet Gunderson

This is a summary of a lecture given by Dr. Harlow Shapley based on “Galaxies and What They Do to Us. The lecture used slides that took the viewer on a trip through space 500 million light years long. The rest of the article consists of the highlights of the lecture, including the significance of the radio-telescope. There is also a photograph of the speaker titled, “Dr. Harlow Shapley: galaxy expert.”

“Jazz in Spotlight”

“Accident Rate Shows Decrease in '61,” by the Associated News

This is an article with information from the National Safety Council in regards to the number of accidents in the year 1961 and how they have decreased from 1960. The statistics that they include show the number of people that have died from accidents dropped from 93,000 to 91,000 over the year, which is a two percent decrease. There are other statistics that are interesting to look at, and continue with the trend of a decrease in accidents and an increase in safety of vehicles.

List of Advertisements:

None

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 20, 1962

Volume: 71

Issue: 88

Page: 2

“As Spotlight Turns Off...”

This is an article about the spotlight moving off of a Brazilian exhibit in the Union Ballroom. The Spotlight Committee estimates that almost 50,000 people saw the exhibit alone, with many others attending the programs held throughout the two-week event. The article then continues on to give credit to different organizations for the success that the exhibit had. The few organizations that were mentioned were representatives from the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau, Brazilian Coffee Institute, and Varig Airlines.

“Edification... By Eloise,” by Eloise McQuown

This is an article written by McQuown which essentially discusses the stigma of being late to classes and the different approaches and impacts that a student’s lateness has on the class period. The time frames are anywhere from being 5 minutes late to being over 45 minutes late, with a number of different options in between. The purpose is to show that it is okay to not have your entire life in order, and that getting to class at some point is much better than missing the entire lecture.

“Peruvian Student Finds Campus Social Provisions Inadequate,” by Jorge Arce-Larreta

This article contains an editor’s note, which is provided to give the reader context as to who the writer is, a foreign student from Peru majoring in civil engineering. The rest of the article contains information from Arce-Larreta about the struggles and issues that foreign students go through on a daily basis. The headline of these issues is that there are very few and limited activates in which foreign students can be a part of. He believes that the university should show the foreign students that the interest in world affairs is constant and not just the affairs of the host country.

“This Week We Honor,” by Joann Emmertson

Dean Lowell M. Durham of the College of Fine Arts was the honoree listed in this issue of the newspaper. The article gives a run-down of the accomplishments and his path that he took, including where he served his LDS mission. Durham was honored not only for his many contributions to the university, but also for the work that he has done outside campus for the people of Utah. There is a photograph of the recipient which is captioned, “Dr. Lowell M. Durham: Fine Arts dean honored.”

“The Daily Utah Chronicle”

Gives information on when it is published along with who the editor in chief is, Meg Rampton, as well as the business manager, Lynn Davidson.

List of Advertisements:

This list ranged anywhere from rooms for rent, cars for sale, services requested, and then job openings available.

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 20, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 88

Page: 3

“Dr. Williams to Present Discussion On Communism”

This is an article promoting a lecture given by Dr. J.D. Williams, associate professor of political science, which was based on a discussion of communism. Coign of Coze presented him and Williams discussed the wrong way to fight communism. The rest of the article discussed the accolades that Williams had required and where he attended his undergraduate schooling. There is a photograph of the speaker which is captioned, "Dr. J.D. Williams: to speak on communism."

List of Advertisements:

Meeting times, lecture notices, band rehearsals, and committee meetings all listed here with the time and place that they were happening.

"Hall of Fame Committees Open for Membership"

This article is an advertisement for students to apply to be sub chairman and committee members on the AWS Hall of Fame Committee. There is information about how to receive an application and the entire process that one must go through in filling them out. Also, there is information about a scholarship opportunity that comes with being in one of these two positions on the committee.

"Union Movie Readies Silent Film"

This is another advertisement for the Union showing silent films, which featured Mack Sennet comedies. Also, there is another part of the advertisement for Brigham Young University hosted the Utes at an after game dance. The last part of the advertisement was the Student Education Association presented a film on south-east Asia. The film described the travels of Thomas Dooley, M.D., and was narrated by Marius Christensen, an educational student.

"List of Advertisements"

Henderson Co. Brokers Company about saving students money on marriages.
Utah Symphony Sold Out
Showing at the Tower Theatres
Kings Row Prom Accessories
Eaton Paper Corporation selling erasers
Mr. Tuxedo, prom advertisement

"1962- It's a Great Year for Coed Fashion Designs," by Judie Alder

Alder was a Jr. Prom Fashion Writer for the Chronicle and her article is based on the best looks for dances for the year 1962. The article took the themes of the dances and gave students options of outfits that would be both on theme and stylish. There were many gowns discussed in the article, but none more than the floor length dress which would have definitely been in style back in that time frame.

"Oriental Dinner"

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 20, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 88

Page: 4

“Redskins, Utaggies Lead in Conference”

This is a sports article in which the standings of the Skyline conference were in the forefront of the discussion, with Utah and Utah State leading the way. There are many breakdowns of the scenarios that could play out, as well as graphs that have the standings broken down even further to how many games behind each team is. There is also discussion on past games and games still to come that could make an impact on the standings further. There is a photograph of I-M (Intramural) basketball happening, with a fraternity team being showcased.

“List of Advertisements”

Career Opportunities for Scientists and Engineers
Prom Night February 23rd
Union Movie Silent Films
City of Los Angeles advertisement to civil engineering seniors
Bennion’s Boyd Park diamond advertisement

“I-M Tourney Opens Tonight”

Tony Simone, I-M director, announced that the B tournament of the basketball season started this night, with the A tournament taking place the next Wednesday. 16 teams qualified to play in the B tournament while the A division was made up of 11 teams. Also, the wrestling tournament also started tonight. There is a schedule of all the games for the basketball tournament also listed that way the teams and spectators knew when to go play and watch.

“Denver First in Ski Meet,” by Norm Sheya

This article summarizes a ski meet that was held at Solitude Ski Resort. Denver University won the meet with 388.1 points while Utah came in fourth with 352.1 points. The article continues to add that the Denver jumping team was the part of the meet that gave them the clear advantage. Western State finished 2nd in the event and had the lead after three stages.

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 1

“Angleman Explores ‘Loss of Direction’

This article summarizes a lecture given by Sydney W. Angleman about the failure of the new world to develop with its new energies and direction. The synopsis covers his title and background, as well as delving into the discussion topics from the lecture. He said, “We have modified our environment so radically that we must now modify ourselves in order to exist in the new environment.” He then placed his confidence in the capacity of man to change, in faith in man’s rationality, and the dedication to tradition.

“Student Faculty Committees Undergo Change,” by Elaine Krans

This article covers the reorganization of the structure of this committee and was announced by ASUU 1st Vice President Ralph Thompson. The reason for the change was the need for more efficient fulfillment of the committees' functions. They created a new position of Executive Secretary, which is essentially a new "right-hand man" to the committee chairman. The article then continued on with more details about the new position, including duties and responsibilities.

"Periscope Meet to Feature Chinese Student"

Bing Cheng Yen, a foreign student from China, was the featured speaker at the International Periscope discussion. The topic of his discussion was family ties in China. The article continues on to give context on how Yen had to flee China to come to the United States, as well as his roles on campus as a foreign student. There is a photograph of the speaker captioned, "Bing Cheng Yen: periscope speaker."

"Space Program Jumps in Orbit," by Jan Peterson

This article is about the launching of the 125-ton Atlas missile into space. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was on board this missile, launching high into orbit. This was the first launching of an American into orbit, and settled the hearts and minds of Americans who believed that their country was losing the space race to the Soviet Union. The Russians were 10 months ahead of the United States in placing a citizen into orbit.

"Cliburn Concert Sold Out, Rehearsal Set"

This article is discussing how Van Cliburn played for students at the dress rehearsal in the Tabernacle. The concert followed the dress rehearsal and was also sold out. The article then continues on with more information as to what the pianist will be playing, and other musicians that will be performing along with him and the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

"Oriental Foods to Highlight ASUU Dinner"

This article is an advertisement for an ASUU dinner called, "A Night in the Orient". The dinner featured foods from China, Japan, and Korea, and was prepared by the oriental students themselves. The article then went on to cover other details about the dinner such as the speakers and the entertainment that was there. There is a photograph included with the article captioned, "International Dinner will feature Oriental dancing Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Panorama Room."

List of Advertisements:

None

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 2

“The White Paper,” by Dennis White

This is an article written by White updating the public on the five hour space flight by John H. Glenn. He described it as stirring and for those people watching on the ground, emotional. The article then continues on to discuss the immediate results and impacts that these results had on the space race and the United States as a nation. The article then compared the approaches used by the United States and the Russians and how they differed from each other.

“Letters to the Editor”

This letter to the editor is focused on the Jesse Garcia murder case. The writer here takes the approach that Garcia should not be given the death penalty for his crimes. They say that it is not Garcia’s fault for the upbringing that he was surrounded with. Also, later in the letter, the writer adds that there is no way for the guilty party to reprove himself in the face of his society or his God if he is dead. The last part of the letter to the editor is about the Night of Knights prom and giving the editor more information about the venue and the event in general.

The Daily Utah Chronicle

Contains information on when it is published, the editor in chief, the business manager, as well as a list of all the other editors for the paper.

List of Advertisements:

This list varies from rooms for rent, to cars and other materials for sale, services that are being requested, as well as job openings that are available.

“Nosin’ Around,” by Joe Ribotto

This is an article that starts with a poem written about the paper in a demeaning way. Ribotto is responding to this poem, which was written due to the fact that the Thursday issue of the paper was printed with the incorrect dateline. This article continues to offer the Chronicle’s apology, and take the approach of being slightly arrogant back to the writer of the poem, even going so far as to add this quote, “It is a weak mind that cannot think of more than one way to spell a word.”

List of Comics:

Little Man On Campus: “There always seems to be this infernal LAG between our increased enrollment and our building program.

This comic shows workers still constructing a building in which a class is already sitting in listening to a lecture.

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 3

“Too Late for Prom Date? ‘No, Siree,’ Say Coeds”

The question that is posed in this article is whether or not it is too late to find a prom date. The resounding answer when coeds were asked was no. There were quotes from Ann Piper, Sue Miracle, Sue Griffin, Maureen McCarthy, Suzanne Hubbard, and Paul Keller. All of these individuals are also pictured on the article, with the captions just reading, Miss (insert last name), or Mr. Keller. Mr. Keller was the Prom Chairman and the young woman were all members of different sororities.

“Calling U”

List of committees meeting, workshops for students, and then other club meetings, with the places and times in which the gatherings were taking place.

“Ute Professors Release European Tour Plans”

This is an article that contains plans for Utah European Tours created by Paul B. Banham, who was an instructor of music at the University. There are two tours being offered, one a shorter tour and the second one slightly longer. The first and shorter tour includes Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, Germany, and England. The second tour consists of Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and Scotland. The rest of the article contains information on price and some more examples of highlights of the specific tours.

“History Society Issues Call for Members”

“List of Advertisements:”

the Limelites Prom advertisement
Cal Tjader and his Quintet advertisement
Old Spice advertisement
Saturday Evening Post Advertisement about Kennedy

“Alpha Chi Officers”

“Williams Lists Improper Ways to Combat Communism”

This is another article about Dr. J.D. Williams and his talks about the wrong way to fight communism. Williams describes the far rights methods of fighting communism as processing a “surfeit of money and a bankruptcy of ideas.” There were nine ways that the far right wing combats communism that are incorrect according to Williams and they are explained further in the article.

“Founders Day Contest Set Wednesday”

“Boosters to Meet”

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 4

“Campus Hums with News of Elections, Grants, Displays”

This is an article in which the writer is briefing the University about different news and deadlines approaching for students. The article starts with information about the recent Greek Officer elections and contains the names and positions of the new members. Secondly, there is information about scholarship deadlines. The scholarship is called Spring Quarter scholarship, as well as other ways for students to receive financial aid. The third aspect to this press release is foundation aid given from the Ford Foundation. They are offering $50,000 to the College of Engineering to aid doctoral engineering students. Lastly, information about engineering displays is included ranging from micro-electronics to vast modern highway systems.

“ZCMI: Spring Knits You’ll Adore”

Advertisement about acrylic knits that students need to complete their spring wardrobes.

List of Comics:

None

List of Advertisements:

None

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 5

“List of Advertisements”

Paul Desmond Saxophone Advertisement

RCA Victor Headphone Advertisement

Utah Symphony Sold Out

Shopping or Swapping?

Showing at Tower Theatres

Saturday Evening Post: Backstage with Fred MacMurray

Bill the Pirate at Black Beard’s Galleon

Blue Angel Lounge: Sing-a-long with Johnnie

“Utes Face Aggie Test Thursday,” by Dave Smith

This a sports article previewing the showdown between the Utes and the Aggies, who were tied for the conference lead. This article talks about the important matchups between the two teams, games from earlier in the year, and keys to the game that could decide it one way or another.

There is an image associated with the article, and it is captioned as, “Redskin Bill McGill (12) goes into the air against Denver, as Bo Crain (10) gets into position. Utah meets USU Thursday.”

“Did You Know?”

List of Comics:

None

Issue Date: February 21, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 89

Page: 6

“Tankers Meet Three Foes”

This is another sports article about the Utah swimming team meeting Utah State. The article covers the Utes loss last time they took to the pool against Colorado State. Also, the next upcoming meets against Stanford and California are included as well as coach Don Reddish’s thoughts on what it was going to take to beat Utah State. There is a photograph of two swimmers diving into a pool and it is captioned, “GARY CLARKE and Gary Jewett, (l. to r.) two Ute tankmen from California, will return to their home state this week as the Redskins take on Stanford and California at Berkley.”

“Bucks Top UPI Hoop Ratings – Who Else?”

This is an article in which the UPI ratings for the 12th straight week ranked Ohio State in the top spot. The Cincinnati Bearcats took the second spot while the Kentucky Wildcats barely held onto their third spot. It was important to the Utah Chronicle due to the fact that Utah took the 14th spot in the rankings, as well as Utah State moving into the top 20. There is an expanded 1-10 list of the teams, their rankings, and their points received from voters.

“Ski Report”

This short article gives the rundown of the ski conditions across the Wasatch Mountains and the roads to the resorts. Workers had been working on clearing the Big Cottonwood Highway to ensure skiers could access the resorts for the holiday weekend. Alta had received 101 inches of snow so far, with the surface of the snow being packed powder. There was also a small weather update at the end of the article.

“List of Advertisements”

Saturday Evening Post: Why Fred MacMurray wanted no part of TV
Fitch Leading Man’s Shampoo Advertisement
Mennen Spray Deodorant for Men Advertisement
Bennion’s Boyd Park Diamonds
The Saturday Evening Post: How is L.B.J. getting along with his boss?

“I-M Tourney Tonight”

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 1

“Age of Knights Marks Prom”

This article headlines the Junior prom that took place on this date in 1962. The article goes into excellent detail about how the ballroom was set up for the dance and how everything followed the theme of “The Reign of Chivalry.” More information follows about the entertainment that will be there to provide music to dance to. There is a photograph of young woman creating a rose bed which is captioned, “Judy Mitchell, Abby Ward, and Linda Clark (l. to r.) work on decorations for Junior Prom which is set for tonight.”

“Senate Urges College Aid, Campus Program Abroad,” by Ernest Ford

NSA Senator Gary Lobb asked the University to “establish an academic program involving study at reputable foreign institutions of higher learning.” The ASUU Senate agreed with University President A Ray Olpin in his plan of making friends abroad by sending students on “missions of mutual understanding.” There is much more information about the specifics of the bill that was drafted including resolutions and how to divvy up the aid available to these students and resources.

“Interested in Yearbook? Posts Up for Grabs”

This is a rather short advertisement for the yearbook telling students that applications are due to become the Utonian editor and the business manager, who were in charge of the book during the 1962-63 school year. These are salaried posts that they would be applying for. More information about letters of application as well as descriptions of the positions also follows later in the article.

“Congo, ECM to Theme Consul’s Talks”

Less than 2 paragraphs, but there is a photograph of the consul, labeled, “Franz Taelemans: Belgian consul.”

“Local News”

No text but a photograph captioned: “Diane Summerhayes, Kathy Nelson, Christine Nelson (front row l. to r.), Sidney Gold, Eldon Hill and Jay Bodine (back row l. to r.) are finalists in Founder’s Day Oratory. Also pictured are Preston Adams and John Bennion last year’s contest winner

“Soviet Proposal Meets Rebuff,” by the Associated Press

This article contains information about Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev’s proposal that world leaders gather to discuss general disarmament of nuclear weapons is being rebuffed by the unaligned nations he sought to impress. None of the five Atlantic powers- United States, Britain, Italy, Canada, or France- has shown any willingness to send presidents or prime ministers to the conference. The United Nations enforced that these 18 heads of state meet by June 1st and the Soviet Union is apparently not willing to include discussion of a nuclear test ban. The Atlantic heads of state from the previously mentioned countries refuse to meet unless the Soviet Union changes their stance.

“Symphony Plans Program of Modern Music”

This article contains information about a scheduled second concert of the third annual Festival of Contemporary Music. The event was sponsored by the University of Utah along with the Utah Symphony Orchestra. The featured program that was played was from the film score “Our Town” by Copland “Concerto for Violin and Orchestra.” The President of the university, A. Ray Olpin also had comments about the concert and those are included in the end of the article.

List of Advertisements:

None

List of Comics:

None

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 2

“Wishful Thinking...”

The United States government was expected within months of this date on whether or not to begin a series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere. The discussion that is had throughout the rest of the article is along the lines of disarmament. It was hard to believe that if the United States announced full disarmament that the Soviet Union would follow suit. The Soviets had recently run a series of tests of their own that showed that they had no intentions of making a move to getting rid of their nuclear weaponry, but instead flexed their military muscle.

“The Round Table,” by Chuck Ackerlow

This article is written about the failure of the ASUU President Steve Brockbank to follow through with any of the promises made in his campaign. Ackerlow said that not only has Mr. Brockbank failed to put senators on student-faculty committees in the numbers that he promised, but he had also failed to provide the effective leadership that was promised. Ackerlow also continued by adding that, “it should be clear to the administration by now that student government can’t continue to call itself a government when it stops serving.

“A Qualification”

This is an answer to the previous article written about President Steve Brockbank. It is ASUU responding to the “Round Table” article, and while they admit there is truth to the accusations, they also believe that they need to be qualified. They say that the main project that they have been working on is “Project Awareness” which is tasked with making students more aware of conditions in the broader world beyond the campus. They believe that they could have done more on campus, but they hope that the students appreciate and remember the work that they did to emulate the attitude that a student can also be a citizen.

List of Advertisements:

Consists of everything from rooms for rent, cars and other personal items for sale, items that are lost and also items that have been found, services requested, and job openings available.

The Daily Utah Chronicle: When it is published and important contacts

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 3

“Names in the News”

This is an informative piece, showing people on campus role models from the University that are being recognized for their hard work and accomplishments. The names that are recognized as follows: Lynda Crockett, Gerry Anne Hays, Linda Goodyear, Dr. Melvin A. Cook, Dr. John D. Spikes, Camillo A. Ghiron, and Dr. William M. McKewan. For what they are being recognized for, find their name in the article.

“Drive for Clothes Planned by Ute Coed Organization”

List of Advertisements:

Rex B. Lybbert Radio Station Ad

BYU – Utah basketball game ad

French Bicycles ad

JB’s hamburger shop ad

Black Hawk Jam Session Ad

Henderson Co. Brokers Agents ad

“Bibler Bounce”

“Deadline Nears for AWS Applications”

This is essentially a press release for University students about upcoming deadlines and other news. The first part is about the application deadline for sub chairmanships and committee posts on the AWS Hall of Fame Committee. The second bit of information is of newly elected Greek officers, and the new positions that they are now holding. The last part of the release is about law scholarships and the information needed to fill them out, how many they were giving out, when they were due, and how much money the scholarship was worth.

“Ute Campus Chest Offers ‘Investment in Humanity’”

“Local News”

No text but there is a photograph of the Army ROTC captioned as: “Army ROTC rifle team display second place awards won at the Bengal Trophy Match held at Idaho State College. K. Sorenson, R. Robinson, Sgt. Decker, coach, P. Kratz, R. Saley, J. Knutti and L. Smith (l. to r.) competed in the recent match held in Pocatello, Idaho.”

“List of Comics”

None

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 4

“College of Engineering Opens Doors for Celebration”

The college of engineering declared an open house to celebrate Engineering Day. Participants included the metallurgical, ceramic, chemical, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineers. The rest of the article contains specific displays that may appeal to different people. There are two photographs added to this story. The one on the left is captioned as: “MODEL CHEMICAL PLANT designed by chemical engineers is displayed by Mahonri Faber, Dave Christensen and David Horne (l. to r.). Exhibit is part of Engineering Week display.” The second photograph and the one on the right is captioned as: “University engineers are declaring open house today and Saturday as they celebrate Engineering Day. Exhibits in two buildings depict the many facets of engineering.”

“Unpopular Campus Job? Officer Marks Eighth Year,” by Connie Dunn

This article is focused on a campus police officer, Gilbert Farnsworth. He says that it is hard to operate in a position in which people are usually always angry at him, or they need his help in a difficult situation. He says that believe it or not, the faculty get more upset about parking tickets than students do. He also added that presidents circle on campus was where he gave out the most parking tickets and also included the hours and days in which you can legally park there.

“List of Advertisements:”

Showing at the Tower Theatres

Hygeia Ice Skating Ad

Busy Bee Café Ad

Union Movie Presentation Ad

Cal Tjader and his Quintet Ad

“Students to Show Wares in Musical Program”

“Frosh Honorary Initiates Six Members”

This article explains how new members of the fraternity Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman scholastic honorary fraternity, had recently held its quarterly banquet. During this banquet, members of the fraternity heard an address by professor of chemistry, Dr. James Sugihara. Also at the banquet, new officers were elected and new members were also welcomed. To join this fraternity, one must have above a 3.5 grade point average.

List of Cartoons:

None

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 5

“Music Society to Present Campsites in Program”

The text is less than 2 paragraphs, however there is a photograph captioned, “Judy Beckstead, pianist, and Sheila Sorenson, Ellen Jeanne Adams, and Becky Bennion (l. to r.) look forward to the Mu Phi Epsilon program this Sun. at 3 p.m. in the Music Hall.”

“Did you Know?”

There are a number of things that a foreign student must do before they may be considered for admission to the University of Utah. They must submit an application form; health certificate signed by a licensed physician; official transcript in English from each secondary school, college, or university attended; high school diploma; and a financial statement. Also, there is information on the Block U in the foothills. Two other facts that are mentioned are that there are four university buildings named after former university presidents, and that the University offers 91 different majors.

“Comedy Operas Planned by Workshop”

Text was less than two paragraphs, however, there was a photograph which was captioned: “Opera workshop rehearsals are carried on by Val Stuart and Lila J. Kitchen for “The Devil Taker,” an opera comedy. The workshop will be held at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in Music Hall.”

“Calling U”

List of committees meeting, workshops for students, and then other club meetings, with the places and times in which the gatherings were taking place.

“List of Advertisements:”

KWIC Radio Station Ad
Bill the Pirate at Black Beard’s Galleon
Mikado Suki-Yaki House Ad
Shopping or Swapping Ad
Hires Drive in Burgers Ad
Bennett Ford Ad

“List of Comics”

None

Issue Date: February 23, 1962

Volume: 71

Number: 90

Page: 6

“Ute Grapplers Face Denver”

This is a story about the Utah wrestling team squaring off against the Denver Pioneers. Six of the returning players for the Pioneers were letterman the year prior. The Pioneers had been struggling going into the matchup and only winning three out of seven matches this season. The Utah team beat Utah State the week prior and are set to give the Denver everything that they can handle.

“Utes Upset Utags, 78-76,” by Dave Smith

This a recap of a game played between the University of Utah and Utah State University in Logan. The Utes barely beat the Aggies in upset fashion 78-76. The rest of the article depicts smaller facets of the game including key plays and lead changes that lead to the Utah win. Then Smith switches gears and focuses on the road ahead for the Utes, looking forward to the showdown with BYU the following weekend. There is a photograph associated with this story and is captioned: “Division A intramural basketballers seem to be playing soccer in this shot taken in Wednesday’s first round match.”

List of Advertisements:

Union Movies Ad

Luigis Restaurant: House of Pizza Ad

Glenwood Lounge Karaoke Night Ad

“Slatman Enter National Meet”

List of Comics:

Mike Mennen and the Unliked-Lifeguard Caper